DR. QUAIN'S Magic Condition Pills !

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR

Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Nervousness,
Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Fever and Ague,
Piles, Paralysis, Bronchitis, Scrofula, Kidney-Complaint, and all Diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood, Etc.

TESTIMONIALS.

Dyspepsia Four Years. Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years. Confined to My Room Two Years. Pain So I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills made me Eat Well, Sleep Well, and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME.

AMERICAN MED. CO.:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well, and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them.

Yours truly,

JOHN W. LORD.

Disease of 16 Years' Standing Removed by Dr. Quain's Condition Pills.

WEST PETERBOROUGH, N. H.

AMERICAN MED. CO.:—Send me another package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than any medicine I have ever taken. I have been troubled with pains in my side, and scarcely able to turn in bed at night for sixteen years. The pains have almost left me now. I have given quite a number of that other package away, and am all out now.

JOSEPH ROBERTS.

"Do More Good than All The Doctors."

WARREN LEWIS writes from Newport, N. H.:—"We feel grateful that there is a medicine that will cure a disease that is very prevalent in our town—Dyspepsia. Please send me one package of QUAIN'S PILLS. These pills do more good than all the doctors."

Testimony of Dea. Charles Baldwin: "One Dose of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Completely and Permanently Cured Lame Shoulder." "The Best Medicine I Know Anything About."

CHARLES BALDWIN, Deacon of the Congregational Church in Greenville, N. H., writes:

"AMERICAN MED. CO.:—I am willing to say anything in favor of DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC PILLS. For a long time my wife had a pain in her shoulder, but the first dose completely and permanently cured her. Since then I have occasionally used them, and always with benefit. They are the best medicine I know anything about."

CHARLES BALDWIN.

Single package 25 cents. Sent to any address by mail, by the AMERICAN MEDICINE COMPANY, Manchester, N. H., on receipt of price, and for sale by all leading Druggists.

AUDITORS' REPORT.

We, the undersigned, hereby certify that we have examined the foregoing accounts, and find them correct and satisfactory.

NATHAN FARLEY,
Auditors.

NEW BOSTON, Feb. 27, 1883.

SCHOOL REPORT.

“In judging of others a man laboreth in vain, often erreth, and easily sinneth.” So said that devout German, Thomas á Kempis. Never have we felt the import of those telling words as we do in taking up the pen to write this present school report. Very gladly would we pass this burden by, and let each person form his own opinion of the respective merit of the several schools and the teachers who have led them. But at this time we have no second choice. Our position is such that we are expected, yea, required, to speak and render an opinion. If in any case we shall seem to speak over plainly, we have no excuse to offer, further than that we have not yet learned the art of saying one thing and meaning another. We have not yet learned to dress facts ; we can only state the naked truth. We might offer some suggestions as to the future working of our schools, but such we know would not be likely to find a willing ear or meet with a believing eye ; nor would we wish to seem to offer plans for our successor to follow, and we forbear.

In our testing of teachers and direction of the schools we have aimed to be impartial ; but we have come in contact with some few whose consciences served them especially to judge of the actions of others ; to such we know our idea of justice has seemed gross and unpardonable error. We make no apologies, however. We only say in the words of Shakspeare, “Judgment and reason have been grand jurymen since before Noah was a sailor ;” and we have preferred to be guided by them rather than to be the servile subject of cringing flattery or fawning favoritism. We are deeply indebted to the citizens of New Boston for the kindly good will shown us and the cordial treatment given us in a thousand ways in our circuits of the town. We are truly grateful for all and hope in some way to repay.

We have refrained from dictating or advising any future course for parents or committee to pursue; but, in closing this our last report, to the scholars whom we have met so often and so intimately we cannot refrain from speaking a word, and with this last word to them we close our report.

Scholars of New Boston: That stern old patriot, Mazzini, in addressing a body of Italian youth, said: "Slumber not in the tents of your fathers. The world is advancing. Advance with it." In these words dwell the thought which we would bear to you. And with this thought we bid you all, children, young ladies, and young men, a hearty Godspeed in your further work of education.

DISTRICT No. I.

This school has again been under the direction of the Amherst Board of Education. Such being the fact, it is hardly necessary to add that its interests have been carefully guarded.

DISTRICT No. II.

Prudential Committee, Mr. Ira G. Cree.

This school was again fortunate in the services of a superior teacher, and superior was the watch-word of the school for the year. Superior teacher, superior scholars; superior progress, superior school. May fortune favor with the same teacher, or one equally efficient, next year.

DISTRICT No. III.

Prudential Committee, Mr. Lakeman Southwick.

A school small in numbers, but great in possibilities. A teacher of no experience, but of thorough devotion to her work. If future efforts shall prove as zealous and result as favorably, her success as a teacher is insured.

DISTRICT No. IV.

Prudential Committee, Mr. Joseph L. Lash.

A lively school, a ready teacher ; good attention, excellent progress. This teacher goes to work in a manner sure to bring success. Could some of the lads in this school see a "hand-writing on the wall" tracing in letters of fire the words of the Third Commandment, it would be a good thing for them.

DISTRICT No. V.

Prudential Committee, Mr. Lendall Dodge.

This is the most promising school in town, made up of material calculated to bring out the best work of any teacher. This teacher showed positive ability in her management. The results were satisfactory to all interested.

DISTRICT No. VI.

Prudential Committee, Mr. David N. Butterfield.

The teacher of this school had the full confidence of her pupils. Her labor was one of marked profit. A class in book-keeping did some very neat work.

DISTRICT No. VII.

Prudential Committee, Mr. James M. Hobby.

We found in the teacher of the summer a lady of very scholarly attainments. She aroused in her scholars a remarkable deal of enthusiasm in their studies, and in the parents a deal of interest in the school. Her generous efforts are worthy of many words of praise. The teacher of the winter was alike successful. She had had sufficient experience to know how to make every hour count for the benefit of her pupils. The scholars tried very earnestly to merit the teacher's persistent efforts for them. We think they succeeded.

DISTRICT No. VIII.

Prudential Committee, Mr. Charles H. Shedd.

In the primary department there have been three terms and one teacher, which latter fact is in itself significant. This one teacher is a graduate of our State Normal School. If attending this school is a condition precedent to becoming such a queen of teachers in a primary school as she has proved herself to be, we advise all young ladies who aspire to this kind of work to matriculate at this institution at an early day. The little folks ought to hold a thanksgiving party to commemorate this, their year of wonderful, natural and genuine progress.

In the grammar department there have been three terms and three teachers, which latter fact is again significant, to be sure, but which, in this particular case, casts no reflection upon the teachers; for we honestly believe that it was the purpose of each to do his and her whole duty to the school. If any have taken occasion to criticise and complain, we say plainly that the fault comes home to them more closely than to either the teachers or the scholars. The great French writer and philosopher, Victor Hugo, has said, "What people say about others often has more influence on their success than what they do." It is an easy thing for any one to concoct and peddle "old-wives' fables." It is a hard thing for any one, and hardest of all for a teacher in a village school, to pull against the tide of such drivel. We bespeak for future teachers in this school a fair trial before judgment is passed upon them, and the exercise of Christian charity in all that may be said of them.

The lady who taught the summer term is an experienced teacher, and she displayed much sound sense in its conduct. The teacher of the fall term worked hard to please her patrons. That the scholars appreciated her efforts is proved by the fact, that at the close of the term they presented her with a fine volume of Burns's poems, as a token of her merit and their good will.

The gentleman who taught the winter term possessed the peculiar faculty of being able to say unto one, "Go," and he goeth, and unto another, "Come," and she cometh; and his scholars came and went before him in a very acceptable manner. We leave it to the scholars to consider, weigh, and compare the knowledge gained in the respective terms.

DISTRICT No. IX.

Prudential Committee, Mr. Almus Warren.

In the summer term certain scholars came to school thoroughly imbued with tiptoe fine ideas. This teacher, in a quiet way, caused them to walk the line at a very fine tiptoe. Her instruction, too, was practical and progressive. She is capable of managing a very difficult school. The lady who taught the winter term we have known before as a faithful, hard-working teacher, and we found her the same here. She sought to make her labor profitable for all, and she sought not in vain.

DISTRICT No. X.

Prudential Committee, Mr. George E. Robbins.

In her change of place, this teacher did not change or remit her devotion to her work. She led her pupils to the place where knowledge was to be found, and each bore away as he or she was fitted to contain.

DISTRICT No. XI.

Prudential Committee, Mr. Andrew J. Bennett.

The teacher of the summer and fall terms is one of good and deserving reputation. Her work in the summer was careful and painstaking, and the result a natural fruition of such work. In the fall term she was tasked with a somewhat difficult experiment, viz., to mix fire and powder without producing an explosion. Her method was to pour sweet oil upon each; but the fire burned brighter, and the powder exploded. Strange to say, however, the explosion harmed no one. In fact, the atmosphere seemed clearer afterward than before, and the measurements taken the last day indicated that this doubtful experiment had not seriously affected the progress of the school, for it appeared well, and most of the scholars had made decided improvement.

If the being faithful to few shall give one the right to become the ruler of many, the gentleman who taught the winter school has earned that right. We sincerely expect to hear of him ere long in a larger field of work, and, we hope, with a right to praise equal to that earned in this.

DISTRICT No. XII.

Prudential Committee, Mr. George Langdell.

It is not often that we meet two such accomplished teachers in one school. Both deserve the highest words of praise. The teacher of the summer term awakened a spirit of serious interest and thoughtfulness in her scholars seldom seen in a school of this grade. The teacher of the fall term continued this interest, and, aside from the carefully prepared, regular lessons, taught the pupils many valuable, practical facts, gathered in her wide experience as a teacher. No school in town presents a higher average of excellence for the year than this.

DISTRICT No. XIII.

Prudential Committee, Mr. James P. Todd.

The young lady who taught the summer school came to her work without experience, but she started out well, and when we visited the school at the middle of the term found her working earnestly, and the pupils seemed to have made fair progress. The school closed in the forenoon of the last day, that the teacher might attend a croquet party in the afternoon. The committee failed to receive notice of this arrangement, and when he reached the school-house early in the afternoon, it was only left for him to stand upon the door-rock and ponder upon the dignity of official life. It is reported that he went away repeating portions of Job's lament.

In the gentleman who directed the forces of the winter school we found a very king of teachers. To a full fountain of knowledge he had added experience; and to experience, patience; and to patience, firmness; and to firmness, a willingness to work. The scholars emulated his worthy example, and the result was a term's work of profit which cannot fail to stand a golden milestone in their lives.

DISTRICT No. XIV.

Prudential Committee, Mr. Charles S. Colburn.

The teacher of the summer term brought to her work a zeal and devotion rarely seen in one so young. She taught the children well, and the children gave a ready response to her teaching, and learned well.

The teacher of the winter term was one of those happy combinations, not often met with nowadays, of Saxon grit and common sense. In the school-room she is more than a match for any long-eared Yankee in the land. Her instruction was clear-cut and polished. Each principle taught was laid at the proper time, and fitted in its proper place. She is one who would be a successful teacher anywhere. Under her leadership the children took long steps in their studies.

DISTRICT No. XV.

Prudential Committee, Mr. Martin V. B. Worden.

Two terms of schools with the same teacher, and a teacher who had evidently looked up the meaning of that emphatic word, and explained it to her pupils, for they recognized her as such in all their movements. She, on the other hand, sought out and set in order what she had to teach, so that her pupils might gain the most from their efforts. For a small school of small scholars they have done a good measure of vigorous thinking this last year.

DISTRICT No. XVI.

Prudential Committee, Mr. Daniel L. Bartlett.

The summer school was composed of ambitious scholars, with a teacher ambitious to have them excel. With scholars thus disposed, and with a teacher thus inclined, it was an easy thing to have a good school, and they had it.

The teacher of the winter school was a gentleman, and one of that best kind of gentlemen who are willing to roll up their sleeves and work. We think he must have preached his scholars a sermon from the text, "Industry is the price of progress." And the scholars were not hearers alone, but doers, as their work will testify.

DISTRICT No. XVII.

Prudential Committee, Mr. H. H. Simons.

This school is in the province of Weare, and the Weare committee, as formerly, has ruled over it. We have heard favorable reports from time to time, and have no reason to doubt that it has been a model school.

REPORT OF TRUSTEES OF THE
NEW BOSTON CEMETERY,
FOR THE YEAR ENDING FEBRUARY 24, 1883.

There is no especial matter of interest to lay before the town in our report, except to present in detail the superintendent's report to us, which shows those who have passed away from us for ever in this world, and whose forms the cemetery has received into its bosom. As you read their names and ages, and memory brings back their faces and lives afresh to you, let the mantle of charity cover their failings, and the bond of sympathy to the bereaved be strengthened as the unavoidable thought must come to all:

“Yet a few days, and thee
The all-beholding sun shall see no more
In all his course.

Of the labors of adornment and improvement of private lots, of the erection of tasteful and appropriate monuments, and the desire for the comely appearance of the cemetery, the past year has shown no diminution of the interest manifested in the past.

Water has been introduced, flowing through a fountain of pleasing design, placed on the hallowed spot indicated in our last report, and there is now a never failing supply of nice, pure spring water available always during the summer months. Of the amount appropriated for this object at the last annual town-meeting, we have expended, including the fountain and a winter covering for the same, $115, leaving sufficient to convey water to two more places on the lower parts of the grounds the coming season.

Gradually, the private burying-lots on the old homesteads throughout the town have been disappearing, as the friends of the deceased have seen how much more desirable the cemetery grounds, always to be cared for, are, to what the possibility of these private lots, passing into indifferent stranger hands, may prove in their neglect and desecration.

The present, compared with the former neglected and bad appearance of the cemetery grounds, affords us satisfaction, and we believe that you will feel fully compensated for all the generous sacrifices willingly made to improve them.

Respectfully,

DANIEL CAMPBELL,
NEIL McLANE,
THOMAS R. COCHRAN,
GEORGE A. WASON,
SOLOMON D. ATWOOD,

Trustees.
